Cumbria's Training Events for School Based Staff and Governors 2018/2019

Welcome to 'Cumbria's Training Events for School Based Staff' course brochure for the 2018/2019 academic year.

This brochure brings together a wide range of high quality, value-for-money full day/half day/twilight courses and conferences, designed to address key areas of school improvement, based on our best intelligence of current needs.

As always additional courses will undoubtedly be planned and added to our programme throughout the year in response to demand and emerging needs. These additional courses will be distributed to schools and settings via email and added to the Schools Portal.

An electronic version of the brochure and any subsequent additions will also be available on the Schools Portal and the Cumbria County Council Website – <http://www.cumbria.gov.uk/childrensservices/schoolsandlearning/lss/tradedservices/>

An electronic brochure can also be downloaded on the SLA Online system; these brochures can be filtered by subject area for your convenience.

Some of the courses featured in this brochure can be offered as a bespoke training event or as part of an 'INSET day' for your school. Please contact the Apprenticeship and School Development Team who will be happy to arrange this for you.

Pricing

Each event detailed in this brochure has been scrutinised to ensure the proposed fee is as low as possible.

Following feedback from schools and partners, we have made the prices for each course the same for ALL delegates. This means that there are no additional charges to delegate places from academy and independent schools, please note that this does not include VAT where applicable.

Booking Arrangements

Places for all courses can be booked by registered users through our online system SLA Online – <https://secure2.sla-online.co.uk/?logo=10>.

Places are confirmed via the system once the delegate name has been added and the course checked out of the shopping basket. The Apprenticeship and School Development Team will also send out an email reminder one week before courses are due to take place.

When booking places on multiple courses, these can all be 'checked out' of your shopping basket at the same time, using the same purchase order number. There is no need to check each course out separately (unless you wish to use different order numbers).

We hope we have included sufficient information on each course within this brochure, but please do not hesitate to contact The Apprenticeship and School Development Team, if you require further information Email: schooldevelopment@cumbria.gov.uk, or Telephone: 01228 226817

Commitments and Cancellations

Establishments will not be charged if cancellations of bookings are received more than five working days prior to the event, if cancellations are not made within five working days this will result in the full cost of the course being applied. This also applies in the case of non-attendance, which is identified from the attendance list. Any courses that are an exception to this, will detail the cancellation policy in the course details and confirmation/reminders.

If for any reason we have to cancel or postpone training, we will notify all delegates booked onto the course as quickly as possible;

a full refund will be given in the event of cancellation by us.

Payment

Accepted bookings will be treated as a firm commitment. The following billing arrangements will then apply:

- By booking on to a course, LA schools will have authorised a transfer of the full costs from their school budget
- 'Cheque book' schools and other clients will be invoiced
- Non-Cumbrian schools will need to send a cheque to cover payment in advance of the course to secure the booking. Please make all cheques payable to 'Cumbria County Council'.

All charges to Cumbrian schools will be made at the end of each term.

Evaluation

To ensure that our courses remain relevant, effective and of high quality, we encourage delegates to provide feedback. After training courses have taken place, delegates will be emailed a link which should be followed to input evaluation comments; this should be done within two weeks of the course date. Once the feedback has been submitted a certificate of attendance will be available to download. Delegates will not receive a certificate if they do not complete the feedback. If you have any other comments about any aspect of our training courses, or would like to see anything else included in our offer, please do not hesitate to contact us:

Email: schooldevelopment@cumbria.gov.uk, or Telephone: 01228 226817.

We look forward to seeing you at our courses during the next year.

Yours Sincerely

M. Watson

Dealing With Angry and Aggressive Parents Safely, Assertively and Positively

Course Outline:

Have you ever been threatened or intimidated by angry, irate and aggressive parents? Have you ever come away from an encounter feeling angry, upset and feeling that they have got the better of you by shouting, not listening or even sometimes, bullying behaviour? If the answer to any of these questions is 'Yes' then this course may well be useful to you. Whilst not a panacea (nothing is!) the skills and techniques learned will assist you in de-escalating the situation and hopefully provide a more satisfactory outcome for both parties.

Target Audience:

All teachers, NTAs, support staff and management irrespective of the size of the school or age of the pupils (primary and secondary). In simple terms, a good course for anyone who encounters challenging or awkward parents!

Course Provider:

Guy Pocock – Lakes Training Solutions Ltd

Outcomes:

- To consider personal safety when dealing with threatening and potentially aggressive encounters
- To list the benefits of applying a conflict management model to threatening situations
- To evaluate the effectiveness of assertive behaviour in threatening situations
- To be able to appreciate the use of transactional analysis and apply conversation management
- To communicate more effectively in challenging situations

One Day Youth Mental Health First Aid in Schools

Course Outline:

The one day youth mental health first aid (YMHFA) course covers the key issues impacting on young people's mental health today such as social media, peer pressure, bullying and family units breaking down. Mental health issues discussed on the course include depression, suicide, anxiety, self-harm, eating disorders, and psychosis. The course finishes with a focus on recovery and resilience.

Target Audience:

The YMHFA one day course was developed in response to feedback from schools that it was difficult to find time within busy school timetables for staff to complete the original YMHFA two day course. The course has been tailored for school staff but is also suitable to all those working with children and young people and their families/carers.

The YMHFA one day course qualifies you as a YMHFA Champion

Preparation for Statutory Teacher Assessment of Key Stage 1 – For Teachers/Leaders who are new to Teaching and Assessing Year 2

Course Outline:

This course aims to prepare teachers for the final teacher assessments at the end of Key Stage 1. It provides an opportunity to jointly assess and moderate pupils' work; exploring with Specialist Leaders/Experienced Moderators, strategies for moving pupils on. The presenters will use Standards and Testing Agency (STA) materials (which were used to train LA moderators), and the exemplification materials to further clarify the requirements for 'working towards, expected and the greater depth' standards for the writing element. Delegates are also invited to bring a piece of pupil's writing; table discussion will explore how it meets the 'pupil can' statements and discuss the next steps in the pupil's learning.

(NOTE – this course may alter slightly, in light of any STA's amendments to statutory assessment).

Target Audience:

Teachers new to KS1
New Writing Subject Leaders of KS1

Course Provider:

Joanne Thornhill – County Lead for Assessment and Moderation, Cumbria County Council
Specialist Leaders of Education
Experienced Moderators

Outcomes:

- To further develop the skills of accurate assessment – using the Teacher Assessment Frameworks and STA writing exemplification materials

Today's Technology in the Primary Science Classroom

Course Outline:

Technology doesn't need to be scary. This course highlights, how technology can enhance your science lessons and develop your children's 'working scientifically' skills, such as measuring, observations, classifying and grouping, and recording, through the creative use of digital equipment. Using data loggers, digital microscopes, iPads, and various apps, you will be introduced to methods that develop creativity and excitement to your science lessons.

Target Audience:

Primary Science Subject Leaders
 Primary Computing Subject Leaders
 Primary Class Teachers
 Primary Teaching Assistants

Course Provider:

Hester Binge – Education Guru

Outcomes

- Use technologies such as iPads, datalogging equipment and digital microscopes to develop your children's 'working scientifically' skills
- Understand how apps can be used to enthuse your children and help them make connections between science and their lives
- Create exciting and relevant science lessons using alternative technologies with cross-curricular links to other areas of the curriculum
- Share alternative recording methods with your children so they can show what they have learnt and the progress they have made

Science in The Spotlight – Fully Equipped for Planning, Teaching and Assessing the Primary Curriculum
Course Outline: Since the launch of curriculum 2014 many schools have focused, understandably, on maths and English. Science has been the forgotten core subject and so Ofsted are looking more closely at science provision in the coming months. This full day course will examine how to ensure good practice in the teaching and learning of science in the primary school without an extensive budget or an expectation of unlimited time commitment. Delegates will leave with an extensive electronic resource that is easily adaptable and designed to dramatically decrease the amount of work a busy science subject leader would need to do to feel fully equipped.
Target Audience: Primary Science Subject Leaders
Course Provider: Deborah Eccles – Primarily Science
Outcomes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Know what good practice in teaching and learning looks like in science and understand how to achieve this • Identify what is unique about science and the science curriculum and use this to ensure appropriate approaches to lesson planning, recording, assessment and tracking progress are adopted • Leave with practical support activities, ideas and materials matched to the current national curriculum for primary science

Capture their Imaginations: Science Through Stories, Films and Poetry

Course Outline

Films, stories and poetry are an excellent way to engage children in science. Could your children help Early Man pick the best rocks for his tools rather than using bronze? Would they be able to help Superworm escape from the evil lizard? Perhaps they could work out what makes the shadow bigger in Michael Rosen's poem The Shadow. We will explore all sorts of exciting ways to teach science using children's favourite films, books and poems.

Target Audience:

Primary Science Subject Leaders
Primary Class Teachers
Primary Teaching Assistants

Course Provider:

Hester Binge – Education Guru

Outcomes:

- Enthuse your children to be able to plan, carry out, and evaluate investigations that will develop their science skills and knowledge
- Create alternative learning opportunities to develop pupils' progress in science
- Develop cross-curricular links to other areas of the curriculum

Hidden Stories Shared Lives

Course Outline:

This exciting new twilight course will provide a meaningful context to learning about migration with the use of engaging, contemporary mixed media resources created using life stories from people who chose Cumbria to be their home. The session will focus on recent migration to give voice to ordinary people whose contemporary stories about migration offer an insight into the meaning of home, belonging, community and identity.

During the course we will critically engage with and reflect upon the 'big ideas' around the issue of migration and discover a wealth of new learning resources.

Target Audience:

Teachers of KS1
Teachers of KS2
Teachers of KS3

Course Provider:

Cumbria Development Education Centre

Outcomes:

As a result of attending this session, participants will be able to:

- Explore the concept of diversity, identity and community cohesion through contemporary stories about migration
- Understand more about migration in order to feel more confident about teaching
- Acknowledge the human and personal dimension of migration and critically engage with existing narratives with regards to migration
- Explore own attitudes and behaviour towards migration and migrants, reflect on own citizenship and identity
- Feel more confident about using (and planning) cross-curricular learning around migration

Show Ofsted the World: SMSC through Global Learning

Course Outline:

This course highlights the need to provide a stimulating curriculum which uses real life contexts to motivate learning and aims to provide ways for teachers to embed SMSC and global learning as part of the school ethos, while meeting the many requirements of your next Ofsted inspection.

Target Audience:

Teachers (in particular, teachers of Geography, History, Citizenship, PSHE) of KS2 and KS3

Course Provider:

Cumbria Development Education Centre

Outcomes:

- Discover what Ofsted are looking for, what evidence you need to collect, and think about the impact of your current teaching and learning regarding SMSC
- Take away innovative ways of delivery and consider ways of embedding SMSC and global learning as part of the school ethos
- Access an audit tool for evaluating current, and planning future, teaching and learning
- Teachers will better understand how global learning supports spiritual, moral, social and cultural development, be able to relate global learning to other areas of the curriculum and involve learners in valuing and articulating the importance of global learning

Global Literacy

Course Outline:

Add inspiration, relevance and a world view into your English teaching! In this course, we look at practical ways to enrich the English primary curriculum so that learners develop empathy, respect for diversity and imagination and to recognise their place in local, national and global communities. We will examine how to use a wide range of multi-cultural picture, story and poetry books, multi-media resources, drama and role play, and non-fiction sources to achieve literacy objectives for speaking and listening, reading, writing and media literacy. We will also consider how a Global Citizenship approach expands learners' thinking and horizons and develops critical literacy, leading to higher levels of attainment.

Resources and objectives for both Key Stage 1 and 2.

Target Audience:

Teachers of Primary Schools

Course Provider:

Cumbria Development Education Centre

Outcomes:

- To recognise how children's language skills can be enriched by using real life local, national and global contexts
- To find and access high quality global learning language resources for practical classroom activities
- To explore ways to develop critical thinking skills, particularly in relation to media literacy
- To discover CDEC global resource boxes and artefact collections to inspire language teaching across the curriculum

Global Maths

Course Outline:

Use real and relevant examples to enrich your maths teaching and help children learn about global issues at the same time.

The new National Curriculum states that, 'They [pupils] should... understand the cycle of collecting, presenting and analysing data.' Understanding and making sense of data is an important part of understanding many global dilemmas.

This course will give practical examples and resource links that will excite your pupils and save you time in looking for appropriate information for children to work with; many topics will be covered including poverty, inequality, health, education, mortality, migration and climate pressures in other parts of the world and in this country.

In addition we will be comparing the children's daily lives with real examples from children in other parts of the world using measurement of capacity, weight and time – so practically linking local to global.

For busy teachers wanting to teach children real maths skills for their future world and to help them critically analyse and question statistics, then this course is a must. Resources and objectives for upper KS1 and KS2.

Target Audience:

Teachers of Primary Schools

Course Provider:

Cumbria Development Education Centre

Outcomes:

As a result of attending this session, participants will be able to:

- Recognise how children's mathematical skills can be enriched by using real life local, national and global contexts
- Find and access high quality global learning maths resources for practical classroom activities
- Explore ways to develop critical thinking skills in relation to data and global statistics
- Explore opportunities of linking maths with current world events

Visit Leader Training

Course Outline:

This course will cover current statutory law and national guidance, planning and running a residential visit, leader competence, group management offsite, effective risk management, using Evolve, practical scenarios, emergency procedures and Local Authority support.

Do you lead visits or help with school visits? Then this course is for you.

Visit leader training is focused on active risk assessment and group management on educational visits and offsite activities. It is an OEAP certificated course transferable between employers.

This course covers the identification of relevant significant hazards and the importance of placing successful control measures including supervision and group management strategies.

The course is offered in support of the leader's role in educational visits and offsite activities. It remains the role of the employer (e.g. head of establishment, senior youth worker or educational visit co-ordinator) to determine the leader's suitability and competence to undertake a leadership role on any particular visit or venture.

Please note that this course is not EVC training and it is not a substitute for activity or terrain specific training provided by a sport's national governing body or employer.

The scheme provides practical training in leading groups outdoors and it does not take the place of Local Authority briefings/training on the management of educational visits although these may be included in this training.

Target Audience:

All Staff in Primary and Secondary Schools

Course Provider:

Matt Ellis – Outdoor Education Provider to Cumbria County Council

Outcomes:

- To understand the importance of the role of the visit leader
- To update knowledge on the law and national guidance
- To ensure visit leaders understand the risk management process
- To familiarise visit leaders with the Local Authorities Evolve online notification and approval system
- To ensure visit leaders are aware of emergency procedures and the support available from the Local Authority

Health and Safety Management in Schools – The Role of School Leaders

Course Outline:

Overall accountability for health and safety lies with the employer of the members of staff in the school. However day-to-day running of the school including responsibility for the health and safety of staff, pupils and others is normally delegated to the governing body, head teacher and school management team. They have a key role in making sure risks are being managed effectively on site and for offsite school activities.

This short awareness course, offered as a twilight session, was previously known as Health and Safety Awareness for School Governors. It has been expanded and although still aimed at school governors undertaking a health and safety monitoring role, headteachers, particularly those new to their role may wish to attend. We aim to provide an overview of the key responsibilities of school leaders, and discuss the policies, procedures and key safety arrangements that should be in place.

Sensible and effective management of health and safety relies on every member of the management team making sure risk is managed responsibly and proportionately. Good communication by all parties is critical to getting this right.

Target Audience:

School Governors Undertaking a Health and Safety Monitoring Role
New Headteachers of Maintained/Non-maintained Primary Schools
New Headteachers of Maintained/Non-maintained Secondary Schools

Please note that this short session is designed to support headteachers with an over-view to their day to day health and safety responsibilities but that Cumbria County Council advocate that headteachers and school health and safety co-ordinators in maintained schools should also complete the 2 day IOSH Health and Safety Management for Schools. This is a more in depth, nationally accredited course and covers risk management in more detail

Course Provider:

Sharon McCubbin – Senior Health Safety and Wellbeing Manager, Cumbria County Council

Outcomes:

- To understand the health and safety responsibilities of your strategic role and how you can best fulfil them
- To provide an overview of health and safety legislation, applicable to Schools, and provide links to health and safety advice and guidance
- To outline key hazards applicable to schools
- To outline the key elements of a health and safety policy
- To outline key risk management and emergency arrangements that should be in place
- To outline the review and monitoring arrangements needed to ensure the policy is kept up-to-date and that its arrangements are implemented

Education Guru's Wellbeing and Mindfulness for Primary Schools

Course Outline:

Wellbeing is increasingly being recognised as vital for effective learning. Stress, anxiety, and other mental health issues are big barriers to both teaching and learning. Statistics show that at least three children in every class will have mental health issues that obstruct learning for themselves and possibly others in their peer group. Teachers' health is of upmost importance both for themselves and for the children they teach. Without general mental health, their potential is compromised as is their pupils' learning. But there are lots we can do to help pupils and staff be more relaxed and happy, from using techniques such as breathing, meditation and yoga, to taking learning outdoors. This course will help teachers develop skills and strategies to improve their own mental health and wellbeing. It will also enable them to begin to deliver a programme in their own schools to improve the wellbeing of other staff and pupils.

Target Audience:

All Primary School Staff

Course Provider:

Hester Binge – Education Guru

Outcomes:

- Begin to understand the connection between body and mind and the impact of this
- Have a toolkit of strategies to use in periods of stress
- Be more aware of mental health issues that may be present in the children you teach and how this may impact on their learning

- A. Full day mentoring with the Science Subject Leader, including full planning, work scrutiny and child interviews. This allows the Subject Leader to have a full picture of where science is in school allowing them to have the information needed to make an action plan for the next steps for their school.
- B. Joint observations with the Subject Leader; this has the dual benefit of helping you understand how to do science observations and also to help see if what we had found in the work scrutiny was evident in the classroom.
- C. Individual sessions with each teacher in the school helping them to plan a unit with their strengths and areas of development in mind, and their children's needs.
- D. Bespoke inset training to cover any whole school issue.
